Dear Parents and Carers,

I am delighted to be able to share with you the final report from our recent Ofsted inspection. As you will see from the report, the inspection confirmed that Trinity continues to be a good school. As a school we are incredibly proud of what we have achieved over the last 5 years. The report highlights many positive aspects of Trinity, but as our inspection was an ungraded one, the report is relatively short and follows a set format. Throughout the inspection, the inspector kept me and Mr Reid informed of her progress and in those meetings, highlighted many wonderful areas for us to celebrate including the pupils' excellent behaviour and attitudes to learning across the school and the high quality provision in the early years.

Although an ungraded inspection, the process was thorough and the inspector explored all aspects of school life. She observed teaching in reading, maths and geography, and talked to all teaching staff and most support staff. Some children were asked to read to a known adult with the inspector present and she also had conversations with several groups of children about their learning, playtimes, our school values and how they feel about our school. Her inspection of our safeguarding procedures was robust, as we would expect it to be. Whether graded or ungraded, inspections are intense and I am extremely proud of the way all staff and pupils managed the process.

I would like to assure parents that we will be working on the development points noted in the report, and already have plans in place to achieve those next steps in our curriculum development.

Finally, I would like to thank you for your continued support for our school. The inspector and our school improvement partner both noted how very positive your survey responses were - the best they had ever seen! To have 100% of the parents responding to the survey say they would recommend Trinity to other parents is incredibly rare, and we feel blessed as a school to have such a supportive parent body.

I hope you enjoy reading the report.

Kind regards,
Amanda Seager
