HEADS UPDATE

from Amanda Seager

It feels like we have packed a lot into our four day week! This week we have had Share my Work sessions for Hazel, Willow and Oak classes. All of the sessions over the last two weeks have been really well attended and we have been delighted to see so many parents, and some grandparents, coming in to see the children's work. It is so important for the children to have the opportunity to talk about their work, and brilliant that they have such an appreciative audience!

On Tuesday morning our children in Reception, Year 1 and Year 2 had the treat of an author visit. Hunting Raven kindly arranged for Rachel Bright to come and read her new book to the children, which they absolutely loved. They have read and enjoyed previous books Rachel has written and were very excited to have a session with her. Rachel is also a brilliant illustrator and she showed the children how to draw a camel. The children had their sketchbooks in the hall with them and listened really carefully to Rachel and were able to produce some fantastic pictures.

Also on Tuesday morning, our children in Year 3 welcomed a visitor. Their visitor was from the Somerset Heritage Service and she led workshops on Ancient Egypt. This is the current history topic for the children in Pine and Sycamore. During the morning, the children had the chance to make Egyptian bread, to paint a scarab beetle and to take part in a mini excavation. They thoroughly enjoyed the session, although the bread was apparently a little dry and tasteless!

Wednesday morning saw Mr Reid and me taking the School Council to visit Frome Town Hall. A few weeks ago, Melody Hunter Evans came to visit the school council to talk to them about our school and the town and to find out what the children like about them, and what they would like to change. This is part of a town-wide engagement project the council is running to enable them to hear the views of children and young people. There is currently an exhibition at the Town Hall of the children's responses, and the children were very excited to see their contribution. We also had a tour of the Town Hall and met a few of the staff who told the children about their roles.

Finally, we were really pleased to see so many parents and grandparents coming to join us on the playground yesterday to hear the children sing. The children have learned the song over the last week or so, and they sang beautifully. It was especially lovely to see the pride the children felt being able to perform to their audience, so thank you for making the time to come and join us.
